

Art of Investigation

- Let Eric and Priya know that you understand where they are coming from and reiterate that we have behavior/consequence protocol in place and we must follow that protocol.
- Let Eric and Priya know that you understand where they are coming from and ask other staff how they feel about the situation. Text your PD and let them know you're going to take a vote with the staff to decide the next steps.
- The next morning before class, bring Maya into the office for a discussion about what's happening and ensure that she is feeling safe and comfortable.
- The next morning before class, bring Jordan into the office and hear his side of the story. After hearing him out and explaining the code of conduct as it relates to harassment, issue a verbal warning, and give his parents a call.
- After the staff meeting, pull Eric aside for a conversation to go over staff protocol/policies and let him know that we can't be pulling students out of CRW's for something of this scale.
- Call your PD after the staff meeting and ask them how you should go about handling the situation since they have knowledge on the protocol and have likely been in this situation before.
- Write an incident report once you've talked to both students, clearly detailing the facts gathered from both Priya and Eric.
