

Art of Investigation continued...

Day 7 (part 2).

Now that you have done a proper investigation it has come out that Mia admits to stealing the alcohol from the store while Lily kept an eye out. Ava heard they might be trying to drink and mentioned she heard stealing could be an option, but wasn't aware they stole until they pulled it out back at campus that night. Lily admitted to drinking and also being hungover. She's asked if she can go back to sleep and skip class this morning, but wants to do elective class later. Ava came to you privately after and said she felt so bad keeping this a secret, but that she also had a sip. She's never tried vodka before and just really wanted to make new friends. She didn't like it so she only had one sip. Everyone agrees that Emma was in bed reading while the others were drinking.
