

Scenario

A mentor notices a student leaving another student's room in the evening, shortly before bed checks. When asked, the student says they were just helping their friend who was upset and needed someone to talk to. The student adds, "I didn't want to leave them alone—they were having a really hard time."

- Does the intent change the situation?

