NIGHT 5

As mentioned, after lights out Mentor 2 (Disciplinary-Style Mentor) was doing some rounds just to make sure everyone was still in bed. They heard some loud giggles from one room, which has all 4 students mentioned above. Mentor 2 got the students to quiet down and the lights are now off and the room is quiet, but it did take about 10 minutes of engagement with the students, and the staff had to come back once more 5 minutes later to remind them again. Both times, the staff did not enter the room. The first time Ava opened the door slightly, then quickly closed it again. The second time they did not open the door at all, but apologized and promised they would go to bed asap.

These same girls were especially “giggly” during the electives this evening and were already casually warned that their behavior was unacceptable.

Mentor 2 brings this information to your nightly staff meeting and asks the team, “So, how do we want to handle this. I think we all know what to do.”

What is your thought process and plan of action here?
