

Scenario 1

Update: The mentor had their backpack with them and decided to give Hector some of their personal Ibuprofen to help with pain and swelling. Hector is super appreciative and is already starting to feel better.

When the mentor is back outside they report all of this to their AM at the check-in table. The mentor assures the AM that Hector seemed fine and does not need any additional follow up.

